SENATORS HAVE A TILT MEETING OF LEADERS

Martin Resents Alleged Attempt to Bind Him by Parliamentary Understanding on Amendment—Virginians Show Temper.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, and his colleague and long-time associate in the management of Democratic politics in Virginia, Senator Swanson had a sharp tilt on the floor of the Senate late Monday night over an assumption by the former that the latter had bound him in a parliamentary understanding on Sunday. The matter was adjusted in a little while, but not before both men had showed temper.

Senator Cummins proposed on Saturday an amendment to the railroad clause in the Deficiency Appropriation bill, providing that ratemaking power should be restored to the Interstate Commerce Commission Senator Martin, being under the impression that at the close of the Saturday legislative day, which occurred Sunday afternoon, the Senate took a recess, thereby continuing that legislative day into this calendar day, made a point of order against consideration of Senator Cummins' amendment. The rules provide that such an amendment must go over one legislative day Senator Cummins expressed deep regret, saying that he had supposed that the Senate had adjourned on Sunday, at the close of the Saturday legislative day.

When he sat down Senator Martin arose and heatedly told the Senate that he wanted it understood for the future that no other Senator had the right to bind him; that he acted for himself and made his own agreements and that hereafter he would recognize no action by another Senator as binding on him.

Senator Swanson, his face red, jumped to his feet and said that he had not attempted to bind the senior Senator.

"Nobody said you did, sir," replied Senator Martin, angrily.

"Yes, you have said that I did, in effect," came back Senator Swanson, equally angry, his face still red.

Senator Martin again renewed his statement that nobody could bind him.

At that juncture Senator Underwood said something to him in an undertone, and Senator La Follette, who was in charge of the memorial exercises which ended business on Sunday, explained that there had not been a recess, but an adjournment, as requested by Senators Swanson and Simmons, although Senator Watson, whom he termed an interloper in Sunday's exercises, had tried to effect a recess. Senator Simmons also stated that the agreement had been for an adjournment.

That settled matters, and Senator Martin withdrew his objection to consideration of the Cummins amendment.

Republican Chiefs Frame Program

For Next Session of Congress Under Leadership of Representative Mann, of Illinois.

Republican leaders met today to organize the next House of Representatives for the business of the first session of the Sixty-sixth Congress.

For the first time in eight years, the Republican committee on committees met in the majority caucus room of the House office Building under leadership of Congressman Mann of Illinois. Until noon yesterday, this room was reserved for Democratic gatherings.

The first business of the committee on committees, which is made up of thirty-six members, one from each Republican State delegation, is to choose a floor leader and a steering committee of which the floor leader will be chairman.

The next thing will be the assignment of members to the various House committees and the drawing up of rough details of a legislative program, which the Republicans hope to start under full steam before the next Congress is many days old.

The meeting of the committee may continue for a week, Mann said today.

The man chosen floor leader will be without any assignment on any legislative committee. Under the man of the Ways and Means Committee was floor leader.

No Republican today would venture a prediction as to who would get the job that ranks in importance with the Speakership itself. Congressman Mann, present floor leader, says he will not have it. Congressman Longworth of Ohio, is known to be the choice of Congressman Gillett, slated to be next Speaker. Others mentioned are Congressman Moore of Pennsylvania, Graham, of Pennsylvania, and Mondell of Wyoming.

BRITISH MAY FLY OVER

Giant Dirigible Likely to Visit U. S. Before American Plane Can Cross

New York, March 5.—The Aero Club of America has been thrown into a state of near-panic by cable dispatches that the British Navy has a giant dirigible all ready for the flight across the Atlantic. But for labor troubles, according to the cablegram, the ship would have been across the Atlantic and back before this. The airship is the R-39, cnstructed by Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., of Glasgow, and it may start the transatlantic voyage any day.

"If America does not look sharp the transatlantic flight will be made by the British before we are ready to launch our own attempts," said Alan R. Hawley, president of the aero club.

Officials of the club have just received a copy of the memorandum issued by the British Air Ministry, showing that the development of the lighter-than-air machine has been, if possible, more striking than the heavier-than-air machine, and that the dirigible type is possibly better fitted to make the ocean crossing than the aeroplane.

Nine airship stations of various sizes will shortly cease to be in use by the British admiratly and will be turned ver to commercial purposes.

Large rigid airship stations are to be established at distances of 2,000 to 3,000 miles apart, mainly for trans oceanic traffic, while the aeroplane will be used for bringing passengers and merchandise to these from neighboring countries. For example, a continental airship service is planned to run from Lisbon to New York, passengers being taken to Lisbon from Paris, Rome, etc., by aeroplane. In this way the aeroplane will compete with the train and the airship with the steamship, over which it would have the advantage of reducing the average time of transit by at least 50 per cent. Airships would also be used fr lining up the railways in such places as Central Africa, where the country is difficult both for aeroplanes and land transprt.

The regular convocation of Mount Vernon Royal Arch Chapter No. 14, will be held Friday evening March 7, 1919, at 7.30 p. m., for business and the conferring of the Mark and Past Masters degrees,

F. W. LATHAM, Secretary.

Allies May be Compelled to March to Berlin to Establish Order Throughout the Country,—'No Order' Spells 'No Indemnity.'"

London, March 5—"Germany is going to pieces," says the Daily Express editorially. "The allies probably will be compelled to march to Berlin to establish order throughout the country As far as Germany is concerned, 'no order' spells 'no indemnity'

Berlin, March 5—Chancellor Scheidemann is being urged by many majority Socialists to resign and form a coalition government of majority and minority Socialists to avert possible success of the new revolution, it was reported in Weimar dispatches today.

This indicates that the revolutionists have succeeded in forcing dissolution of the naitonal assembly which constitutes the legislative branch of the present government.

Grave rioting is occurring in Berlin, many having been killed, according to word from that city late this afternoon. Street battles are raging in several parts of the capital. Military patrols have been attacked and killed. Martial law has been declared.

The government has summoned three divisions of loyal troops to put down the outbreaks. The streets of the city appear the same as during the Spartacan rebellion in January. Everywhere excited groups of soap box orators are haranguing great crowds.

One of the marine divisions in the city heretofore loyal is showing open hostility to the government.

A state of siege has been proclaimed in Thorn and other northwestern cities.

BONUS TO BE PAID

Officers, Soldiers, Field Clerks and Army Nurses Discharged Since April 6, 1917 to Get $60 Each

Section 1406 of the Revenue Act approved February 24, 1919, authorizes the payment of a bonus of $60 to officers, soldiers, field clerks and nurses of the army upon honorable separation from active service by discharge, resignation or otherwise. This bonus is not payable to the heirs or representatives of any deceased soldier.

Those who are discharged hereafter will receive this bonus on the same roll or voucher upon which they are paid their final pay.

Those who have been discharged and have received their final pay without the $60 bonus, should write a letter to the Zone Finance Officer, Lemon Building, Washington, D. C., stating their service since April 6, 1917, the date of last discharge and their present address to which they desire their bonus checks to be sent and enclosing with this letter their discharge certificate or military order for discharge and both, if both were issued.

Upon the receipt by the Zone Finance Officer, Washington, D. C., of this information and the soldier's discharge certificate, this officer will cause checks to be drawn and mailed to the claimants in the order in which their claims were received by him. The discharge certificate will be returned to the soldier with the check.

It is estimated that at least one million and a quarter persons have been discharged from the service who are entitled to the benefits of this act and while payments will be made will manifestly take considerable time to write and mail this many checks.

UNINVITED STRANGER

Bolshevist Appears in East Room of the White House During Conference.

Bolshevism crept right into the White House yesterday.

While the visiting governors and mayors were in conference in the East Room, an uninvited stranger slipped in unobserved.

Mayor Ole Hanson, of Seattle, Wash., was describing some of the incidents connected with the recent strike in that city when the stranger interrupted him.

"Has the gentleman any credentials and for whom does he speak?" the presiding officer querried.

The intruder then explained that he was present uninvited and was a Bolshevist eager to se that the labor situation in the recent trouble was not misrepresented.

Oehlert, charged with shooting and killing Linwood Kidwell, which occurred the night of November 12 in the office of the yardmaster of the Southern Railway Company, will begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the corporation court for this city, Judge R. H. L. Chichester, Fredericksburg, Va., will preside.

Sergt. Cox today summoned a venire of fifty-six talesmen from which to select a jury of twelve.

It is expected that the entire morning session of the court will be taken up in selecting a jury. The case may occupy two days.

The accused will be represented by Attorney Edmund Burke and the Commonwealth's attorney Howard W. Smith will conduct the prosecution.

WANTS RAINBOW HOME

Glass Would Have 42nd Division Parade for Liberty Loan.

Washington, March 5.—Secretary Glass has asked Secretary Baker whether it would be possible to move forward the date of the return of the Forty-second (Rainbow) Division from April 26, the scheduled embarkation date, so that the troops might parade in the United States during the Liberty loan campaign.

Secretary Baker took Mr. Glass' request under advisement. Many practical questions, it was explained, are involved in changing the order of return of diviisons from overseas as established by General Pershing and plans for their reception in this country.

A study of the difficulties on this side will be necessary, and if it is found possible to make the change it is assumed that Mr. Baker will transmit the proposal to General Pershing for consideration. It may be some days before a final answer to Secretary Glass' request can be made.

SCENES THAT THRILL

Scenes that thrill because of their dramatic power, are features of "The Winning Girl," the admirable Paramount photoplay in which Shirley Mason, the dainty little star, is appearing with Niles Welch at the Richmond Theatre today. The picture, directed by Robert G. Vignola, is a picturization of George Weston's story of "Jem of the Old Rock," which was published in the Saturday Evening Post. There is not a dull moment in the production.

A Montgomery Flagg comedy will also be shown in with the above.

INGOMAR—DORIS KENYON

Doris Kenyon's second photoplay feature produced by her own company, De Luxe Pictures, Inc., the attraction at the Ingomar Theatre tonight is from an original story written especialy for her by Louis Joseph Vance, and is startling in its originality.

For the first time in the history of motion pictures, a great story by a great author is presented on the screen prior to its publication as a serial story in a magazine and in book form. It is such a remarkable story that from its synopsis Mr. Vance sold the serial publication rights to one of the foremost magazines in the country with a circulation of about 2,000,000 copies. He has also disposed of the book rights and "The Inn of the Blue Moon" will be issued in book form as soon as its publication is completed in the magazines.

Like all of Mr. Vance's stories, "The Inn of the Blue Moon," is chock full of action and unexpected situations. Miss Kenyon appears in two decidedly opposite roles—twin sisters whose parents have separated in the infancy of the children.

Mr. Vance has interjected into the story some of the startling melodramatic situations for which he is famous.

Potomac Fish Company will have on sale tomorrow Potomac herring, bay shad, yellow perch Jersey trout, catfish, bass, halibut and haddock, steak cod, Norfolk and Potomac Oysters. Phone 198. C. H. Zimmerman, prop. 54-3t

THE WESTMINSTER CLUB

Membership Campaign Will be Started in the Near Future.

The Westminster Club of the Second Presbyterian Church held a meeting Monday night in its club room on Prince street. Business of importance was considered. The membership campaign will start shortly. The gymnasium of the club is opened every night to members and friends of the club, as well as the club room. Last year the club did splendid work in reorganizing the club from twenty-five to ninety-eight members. The reorganization of the club was started last month, and up to the present day the names of fifty men have been placed on its rolls. At the beginning of the war the club disbanded and it is the object to get the old members back as well as new members. The building is open every night to strangers in the city or any one that wishes to join this class. To become a member of the club, the dues will be $1.00 a month. A duck pin league is to be formed and interesting games will be in order

The latest reading matter will be provided, and there will be games of all sorts.

THE COMMON CAUSE

It is not as a war picture that "The Common Cause" makes its great appeal, but rather as a picture of the spirit that will move the world now that Peace is restored. The very theme of "The Common Cause" emphasizes this, for "The Common Cause" might as appropriately have been called "The Brotherhood of Nations," for it shows all of humanity bound together in the common cause for the welfare of the peoples of the world.

"The League of Nations' idea is best expressed in the prologue and epilogue of "The Common Cause," and for the personification of the nations of the world, Commodore Blackton has assembled probably the most noteworthy array of famous stage artists that any one screen production has ever boasted.

In effect, it is a tabloid history of the great war without going into the horrible details of the stern struggle that has held the world in its grasp for more than four years.

In order to give everyone a chance to witness this great production the managers of the Grand Theatre have decided to present it tomorrow and Friday. Matinees both days.

WILSON SPEAKS TO 5000

Says He is Convinced Majority of People Favor League of Nations—Tells Audience He Will Not Return Home Until it is Over.

New York, March 5.—With the plaudits of the American metropolis ringing about him, and supremely confident of the support of the whole country of the support of the whole country on his league of nations idea. President Woodrow Wilson began his second journey to France today.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and a large party, sailed from Hoboken on the liner George Washington at 8:18 o'clock.

"Every statement that I made in my New York speech last night, and every word I said before leaving Washington will be understood by the people if not by certain politicians," said President Wilson before the liner sailed.

The preliminary peace treaty will be the first business taken up by the peace conference when the President reaches Paris, Mr. Wilson let it be known. The Germans and the other powers formerly associated with Germany will then be in a position to participate in the final negotiations.

New York, March 5—On the eve of his return to Paris, President Wilson told an audience of 5,000 persons in the Metropolitan Opera House last night that he was convinced the majority of the people were in favor of the league of nations.

The league, he asserted, is the only means of assuring permanent peace. It is meant, he said, as a notice to all outlaw nations that they must not attempt any such enterprise as Germany had attempted.

Critics of the covenant, he said, evidently had not observed the temper of the world or the temper of the boys in khaki.

"Those boys," he said, "went over there with the feeling that they were sacredly bound to the realization of those ideals."

The President spoke in his usually carefully modulated tones, but now and then, carried away by interest in his subject raised his voice almost to a shout as he emphasized some telling point. He was frequently interrupted by applause. The audience clearly was in sympathy with him and with his plan for making war impossible in future.

His opening assertion, "I won't come back till its over, over there," won the aproval of his hearers and he was compelled to halt for more than a minute until the applause had subsided.

Throughout he spoke without reference to notes or manuscript, making occasional references to the utterances of Mr. Taft who had preceded him.

There was deafening applause at the conclusion of the speech when the President, speaking of the aims of the conference, said:

"God give us the strength and vision to do it wisely. God give us the privilege of knowing that we did it without counting the cost and because we were true Americans, lovers of liberty and of the right."

There was no interuptions until the President had finished, when a voice from the body of the house called out:

"How about Ireland?"

The interrupter was promptly squelched by a disgusted exclamation of "Aw, shut up!"

The suffragists who were supposed to have obtained tickets did not make their presence known.

ALEXANDRIA REDIVIVANT

The rapid growth of Alexandria during the past year or more is manifest in many ways. There is constant bustle upon our streets, and commercially our city is forging ahead rapidly.

Two or three years ago the location in this city by a nation-wide firm of a five and ten-cent store was regarded as a good omen. Since that time other large concerns, operating chains of stores, have located branches in Alexandria, and others are contemplating following their example.

A well-known business man of this city told the writer this morning that a concern in a neighboring city had entered into negotiations looking to the purchase of his property and business, and for some time it has been rumored that the proprietors of a large department store in Washington were endeavoring to locate here.

Such incidents are undoubtedly straws showing from which quarter the wind is blowing.

While the question of restoring Alexandria to the Old Dominion was being debated in Congress during the latter half of the forties a member of the lower house said in a spirit of contempt for our old city, "Why Alexandria will die from the tooth of time." Another in more recent years during a debate on a bill authoroizing the expenditure of money in the interests of a certain city, said, "Why the place is as commercially dead as Alexandria, Virginia."

Alexandria has risen above such hostile comment, and is now stretching forth towards the goal set by her more optimistice residents years ago.

CONGRESS ENDS

The Sixty-fifth Congress expired yesterday. It leaves to history a record of three sessions, two of them remarkable for their legislative accomplishments, and the third for its lack of accomplishment.

The Sixty-fifth Congress will be known in American history as the $60,000,000,000 Congress. Its three sessions appropriated approximately that amount. This breaks all American records, and probably all world records for a single congress.

Wartime prohibition was enacted for the entire country, to begin July 1, 1919, and both Senate and House passed the dry amendment to the Federal Constitution, which was speedily ratified, and becomes effective January 16, 1920.

The closing session also replaced on the books a Child Labor law, the previous one having been declared unconstitutional. By taxing profits from the sale of products of child labor in the revenue bill, advocates of this legislation declared they have gotten around the constitutional objection. A test is coming on this.

Practically no reconstruction legislation was passed. The third session failed to settle the permanent policy on railroads or telegraphs, and was unable to agree whether the executive or legislative branch of the Government should supervise general reconstruction in policies.

During the entire Congress, but chiefly in the second session, there was a conflict between Congress and the President. In the many clashes the President was invariably able to impress his will when a war measure was up. His only signal failure on any measure was on woman suffrage.

He failed with the country when in the fall of 1918 he appealed for election of a Democratic Congress to co-operate with him in reconstruction. Both House and Senate will be Republican in the Sixty-sixth Congress.

MILD WINTER OF 1918-1919.

"God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" is an ancient observation. A statement in yesterday's Gazette to the effect that the present mild winter is a God-send to the millions in the central countries of Europe, as well as in Russia, brought these words to the minds of many. Devastated by war, in the midst of partial famine and nation-wide strikes, the mild weather could not have come at a more opportune time.

Meteorological conditions which prevailed throughout last fall and the first two months of the present year affords contrasts. The temperature yesterday was springlike, in marked difference to that prevailing March 4, 1909, when William H. Taft was inaugurated as President. The blizzard which set in the previous day will long be remembered. The cold and fierce northwest wind rendered outdoor ceremonies impossible, and thousands who visited Washington that day were forced to keep indoors.

The coldest March 4 on record was in 1873, when the mercury sank to four degrees blow zero and rose to only 20 above at the highest point.

Despite the fact that yesterday was the "springiest" March 4 since 1880, the weather man prophesies that much colder weather is in transitu.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the mercury had arisen to 66, thirteen degrees above the temperature for the average 4th of March.

This has been the mildest winter in seven years. The average temperature of the three winter months as shown by figures of the Weather Bureau up to March 1, was 39 degrees as compared with an average of 40 degrees during the same period of 1912-1913.

Who Benefits by High Prices?

You feel that retail meat prices are too high.

Your retailer says he has to pay higher prices to the packers.

Swift & Company prove that, out of every dollar the retailer pays to the packers for meat, 2 cents is for packers' profit, 13 cents is for operating expenses, and 85 cents goes to the stock raiser; and that the prices of live stock and meat move up and down together.

The live-stock raiser points to rising costs of raising live stock.

Labor reminds us that higher wages must go hand in hand with the new cost of living.

No one, apparently, is responsible. No one, apparently, is benefited by higher prices and higher income.

We are all living on a high-priced scale. One trouble is, that the number of dollars has multiplied faster than the quantity of goods, so that each dollar buys less than formerly.

SODAS AND CANDY HIGH—

17 Year Old New Yorker Tells Justice $26 Weekly Salary Wasn't Sufficient.

New York, March 5.—Anna Fisher, 17, pretty, black eyed and curly haired, a yeowoman attached to the Third Naval district office at 280 Broadway, loved chocolate soda and candy so much that her salary of $26 a week was not enough to satisfy her craving for them.

Anna has been arraigned in the Washington Heights Court charged with the theft of a $600 diamond ring from Mrs. Marcia White, another yeowoman. The ring was pawned by John Rodgers, a sailor, for $375, of which amount Anna received $100.

"I took the ring," she said, "because I needed $100 to pay a bill for my uniform. My father had given me $100 to buy it, but I spent the money on chocolate sodas and candy, because since the price of them has gone up a girl cannot keep herself supplied with them on a salary of $26 a week."

Anna, who is the daughter of George Fisher, of Bath Beach, gave $1,000 bail for her appearance at a later hearing. Rodgers was held in $1,000 bail.

Thousands of Skilled Alien Labor Prepares to Sail for Central Europe.

Thousands of the most highly skilled technical artisans and workmen who came to America from European districts where new governments are soon to be set up will return to the land of their birth as rapidly as shipping facilities will permit, according to facts gathered by diplomatic agencies concerned with issuance of passports to aliens.

According to reports reaching the Treasury Department thousands of the foreign workmen engaged upon the heavy tasks which are fundamental in industry, are insisting that they be paid in full each week, that they are selling their liberty bonds at discount and are accumulating in every manner possible sufficient funds to pay their way to the countries of Central Europe.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Representatives of 50,000 workmen of Christiania, passed resolutions yesterday threatening a general strike unless a new election is held at once.

The Mexican government went on record last night as favoring payment of all just damages resulting from the revolution, liquidation of all foreign debts and amendment of the confiscatory oil law.

Albert E. Carmichael, one of the best known laywers of Schenectady, N. Y., was killed by five American soldiers at Trier, Germany, on January 10. Carmichael and another member of the military police were attempting to arrest the five soldiers when they shot him. The five soldiers, whom Capt. Hobart described as criminals, had disarmed and were assaulting two other members of the military police, when Carmichael and his criminals went to the rescue.

Federal authorities in Chicago yesterday disclosed what was claimed was a plot of Chicago radicals to terrorize the city by blowing up important buildings. Among buildings under heavy guard are the City and County Building, Army Building, occupied by officers of the Central Department, the Chicago and Union League clubs. The plot was uncovered, officers said, through the death of James Patterson, shot in a "red" hang out. Patterson, it was claimed, was one of the members selected by lot to begin the terrorism campaign by blowing up the Union League Club. His failure to participate officers said, led his mates to charge he had "squealed," whereupon they marked him for death.

The House yesterday went on record in favor of self-determination for Ireland, 216 to 41. Adoption of the Gallagher resolution urging the Peace Conference in Paris to favorably consider the rights of the Irish people was the final important action taken before adjournment of the Sixty-fifth Congress. The vote came at exactly one minute to 7 o'clock yesterday morning, after an all night fight against a Republican filibuster designed to prevent the resolution being called up. It also came as a fitting celebration of the 141st anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmett.

The greatest concern of the Peace Conference just now is the situation in Bohemia. Food conditions there are bad and the distress of the people has encouraged spread of Bolshevism. It is greatly feared that unless relief is immediately afforded the Bolshevists will get control. It was decided yesterday to call in Herbert C. Hoover tomorrow and arrange for immediate transportation of supplies to meet the temporary wants of the starving people.

The United States faces a simultaneous stoppage of both telephonic and telegraphic communication the country over. It was announced at the headquarters of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers at the A. F. of L. Building in Washington last night that the strike vote of the organized telephone operators of the country was overwhelmingly in favor of such a strike. If the telegraph operators also vote to strike, as is expected, there will be a complete tie up of wire communication throughout the United States.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Dr. J. Wallace Massey, of Spotsylvania county, has about decided to be a candidate for the house of delegates this fall from this district, which is composed of Spottsylvania county and the city of Fredericksburg. He is a democrat and he will probably have no opposition.

G. H. Hopkins was found guilty yesterday in Petersburg of passing a worthless check for $49.50, on Samuel Luferman, a merchant of Petersburg. He was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. When the verdict was announced the convicted man's wife burst into tears and pleaded with the court for lenience.

The body of Herman Hoffman was found Sunday on a farm owned by Junius Smith, in Dinwiddie county, seven miles from Petersburg. Hoffman, who was a resident of Petersburg, had been murdered. Officers advance the theory that the murder was committed in Petersburg Saturday night and the body was concealed until Sunday night, when it was carried in an automobile to the Smith farm. Hoffman had been shot in the back. There was no evidence of a struggle where the body lay, but a shotgun with one empty shell was a few feet from the dead man. It is reported that Hoffman was accustomed to carrying on his person considerable sums of money. He was 35 years of age and is survived by his wife and three small children.

GEORGE'S WARNING

Little Nations Must Not Emulate Faults of Higher Powers.

London, March 5.—A word of warning to little nations against emulating these faults of the greater powers in their desire for territorial expansion was spoken by Lloyd George in an address at the Welsh banquet.

"I do not know whether this is the proper occasion on which to utter a word of caution to little nations," said the premier. "I do so as a genuine friend to them. Now that they have achieved success, great success, dazzling success, almost blinding success, there is great danger of their emulating the faults of great countries. There is a tendency to expand beyond the limits of their race, to annex territories not their own. The spirit of expansion is beginning to possess them. It is the most fatal error that any people, great or small, can possibly make."

GO TO THE RESCUE.

Don't Wait 'till It's too Late—Follow the Example of an Alexandria Citizen.

Rescue the aching back.
If it keeps on aching, trouble may come.
Often it indicates kidney weakness.
If you neglect the kidneys' warning,
Look out for urinary disorders.
This Alexandria citizen will show you how to go to the rescue.

Mrs. A. Waring, 304 N. Patrick St., says: "I suffered awfully from backache and inflammation of the bladder. I used to be in such misery during these attacks I had to have injections of morphine to relieve the pain. The pains in the top and back of my head nearly drove me frantic. I often got so dizzy I could hardly keep from falling. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's Drug Store. Several boxes stopped that awful pain in my back and head and made my kidneys normal."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Waring had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A SPLENDID TONIC

Says Hixon Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn., —"About 10 years ago I was," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place, "I sufferd with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try som more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommended it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.
